The fisheries sector plays an important role in the Indian economy. It contributes to the national income, exports, food and nutritional security, employment generation, socio-economic development, and providing livelihood to a large section of the society. Fisheries sector is also a principal source of livelihood for a large section of the economically underprivileged population of the country, especially in the coastal areas. India has become the 3rd largest fish producer and the 4th largest exporter of fish and fisheries products taking Brand India from 'Local to Global'.
